DISCLAIMER

The work being presented here concludes the final stage of the CEI-English Diploma Course, at UFMG, which includes the following parts: rationale; developed material, with two units; teachers' guides and exercise key; and a booklet test for each unit. The material was produced without any commercial intent, and can only be reproduced with the author's permission.

Through all the work was applied the theory and knowledge acquired through the course provided at UFMG. Because of this Diploma Course, the creation of this work was possible. For that it is relevant to leave it registered here, all gratitude for all the Professors from CEI, who kindly inspired English teachers to become more professional and, consequently, better educators.
